HOOVER WARNS AGAINST RAIDS ON PUBLIC CASH

Criticizes Efforts To Put Financial Burden On Government

SAYS NEW BILLS
WILL TOP BUDGET

Tax Increase, Says President, Will Hit Farmer, Worker

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Hoover declared today efforts were being made to impose greater financial burdens upon the government than its financial position would permit.

Prosperity cannot be restored by raids on the public treasury, he warned.

Noting that pending legislation would impose additional burdens of $1,500,000,000 above the sums he asked for in his budget message, he said that budget contained the maximum expenditure that the government could make without increase in taxes.

Any tax increase, he continued,
would fall on the farmer and worker.

Mr. Hoover said some organizations were playing politics at the expense of "human misery."

"The American people will not be misled by such tactics," he added.

CITY RALLYING TO NEEDY'S AID IN POST DRIVE

Legionnaires Load Four
Trucks In First Night
Canvass

HAPPINESS LOOMS
FOR EMPTY HOMES

"Have Bundles Ready" Is
Plea As Campaign

Salem's needy families, lacking clothes, as well, as funds to purchase them will be made happy this Christmas as a result of the canvass of the city now being made by members of Charles H. Carey post

Four Truckloads Obtained
Four truckloads of dresses, dress goods, toys, suits, coats overcoats and topcoats were obtained in the gionnaires Monday night and committeemen in charge of the drive anticipated similar success in visits to other sections of the city tonight and Wednesday.

The first-night canvass was a great success. Legion members announced today. The clothing collected will be mended by Red Cross auxiliary and will be distributed to needy homes this month.

today in urging early purchase of new system this year.

Officials Cover $88,000 Shortage

(By Associated Press)
WARREN, Dec. 9.—Discovery of an $88,000 shortage in the accounts of the First State bank of Newton Falls was announced by bank officials there today and at the same time it was revealed that Reese B.
Jones, president, has been placed in the Trumbull county jail. No charge has been filed against him.
When the shortage was discovered by examiners of the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland, directors of the Newton Falls bank at once deposited $88,000 to cover it, and the bank which is the only one in that community, was able to continue business undamaged by the loss.

Check Questioned, Man Drowns Self

FRANKLIN, Dec. 9.—A man known as Buck Stevenson drowned
in Miami river near here yesterday.
Officers of a mail order house said a man by that name had issued questionable checks for goods.
When Stevenson called for packages at the post office yesterday, an officer attempted to apprehend him,
but he fled, jumped into the river and sank after swimming a few feet.

Fall Proves Fatal To County Officer

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 9.—A fall from an 18-foot ladder resulted in the death yesterday of Henry Ruel, 66, Scioto county commissioner.
His son Hugh, 32, had fallen from the ladder earlier in the day and was slightly injured. The father was owner of the Raven Rock golf course and airport.

Child Fatally Hurt

WILLIAMSBURG, Dec. 9.—Myrtle Coleman, 8, was fatally injured
when struck by a truck yesterday

pion sweet potato grower and Willard Eachus, 15, the champion tomato grower, at the 56th annual

a profit of $300 an acre on sweet
"spuds" while Willard netted $180
an acre from his crop of "love apples."

Leonard P. Ayres Predicts Business Revival Next Year

"Old Signs And Symptoms" Point To Recovery,
Avers Forecaster; Depression
At Bottom Now

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—The bottom of the business depression is at hand, according to all the "old signs and symptoms" and recovery
next year should be expected, Col.
Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust company and internationally prominent business
forecaster, said today.

He cautioned, however, that "it is already clear that we are not waiting in expecting a rapid recovery."

"The purchasing power of an important part of our population is still seriously restricted by the paying down of debts incurred in unsuccessful stock speculation," he said.

Not New Enterprises
Another reason for a delay in business recovery is that although we have an abundant supply of credit "we have not developed any new wave of constructive enterprise such as canals, railroads, war materials, highways and automobiles. These activities have usually come from men of courage who took advantage of the low interest rates to float bond issues for financing expansion and improvements."

It does not seem probable, however, he said, that the construction industry in 1931 will furnish the vigorous stimulus needed to get a general recovery of business under way.

The purchase of licenses for all dogs, especially if they happen to be valuable ones, was urged today
by C. E. Donahay of Damascus, Columbiana county dog warden.

A bulldog was injured last night
when it was struck by an automobile. The canine wore harness and a collar but had no tag. The animal was cared for by police last night and then taken by Donahay

MURDER TRIAL JURORS VISIT TRAGEDY SCENE

Taken To Room Where Frank Murphy Was Fatally Shot

WOMAN IS HELD
AS GUN WIELDER

Testimony Under Way
Today In Mary Tin-
ney Hearing

Five witnesses were heard as testimony in the second degree murder
trial of Mary Tinney, 22-year-old Salem woman, opened in common pleas court, Lisbon, before Judge
W. Frank Lones shortly after 11
a. m.

The first of 36 witnesses summoned to appear during the hearing was placed on the witness stand following the jury's return from a visit to 187 West State street, the scene of the death of Frank Murphy, 32, of Salem, on July 12. The defendant is charged with having fired the shot which resulted in Murphy's death.

Lisbon Man Called
Levi Kimball of Lisbon, employed in the office of the county surveyor, was the first witness called. He was followed to the stand by Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Goodchild of Salem at whose home Murphy roomed for four months.

Raymond McCave and Gladys Woerther both of Salem, were called to the witness stand shortly before noon, the jury being excused for lunch by Judge Lones while McCave was being questioned by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht.

Miss Woerther and McCave admitted being present at the Dragish apartments during the afternoon of the day the shooting occurred and testified that they, together with Dragish, Murphy and Miss Tinney, drank liquor brought there by Murphy. They denied that any persons present were under the influence of liquor.

Defendant Bleeding
Miss Woerther said that the defendant was bleeding about the mouth after having been struck by Dragish and that the latter tried to console her, saying he was sorry he struck her. She and McCave both said Murphy brought the liquor to the apartments.

Kimball appeared on the stand to identify a plat of the Dragish apartments he had taken following Murphy's death. Mr. and Mrs. Goodchild told the jury that Murphy had stayed at their home for four months and explained he had left the house early in the afternoon of the shooting and had gone to Drag-ish's place.

Spend Hour in Salem
The jury spent more than an hour
visiting the scene of the shooting, leaving this city at 10:40 a. m.

P. H. Murphy of Georgetown, Ind., father of Murphy, who died at Central Clinic hospital a few hours after he was shot, is attending the trial. He also went to Salem with the jury.

Murphy resided in Salem for about 10 months before his death.

No. 1 court room was crowded from the time the trial started shortly after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon and about 50 women were back of the rail. Charles Tinney, a brother of the defendant occupied a seat in front of the rail and to the back of his sister.

A CLASH OF OPINIONS

Sunday's unpleasant incident in New York City's Cathedral of St. John the Divine falls easily into that class of happenings for which there can be no response but copious regret. Bishop William T. Manning, who believed it his duty to attack a doctrine; Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who believed it his duty to defend it; a few parishioners who knew no better than to betray their true selves by mob violence—none of them gained and each lost a little. It was an open clash of opinion devoid of tolerance, and tact and non-productive of beneficial result.

Judge Lindsey was greatly at fault. It had been his intention to make a response at the service. He had been angered by the bishop's refusal to allow the clergy in the diocese to listen to his address on companionate marriage recently. "I shall be in your audience to hear you speak on this subject," he had warned Bishop Manning in a postscript to a letter commenting on the announcement that the congregation in St. John the Divine on Sunday morning would hear "a message to the diocese as to certain issues now before us and as to the meaning of so-called 'companionate marriage'."

But Judge Lindsey failed to get permission to speak. He did not seek it, so far as is known. He presumed considerably on the tolerance of the congregation in interrupting the service to make himself heard, and it was to be expected that his reception would be hostile. But back of his ill-considered action was this stinging characterization of his book by Bishop Manning: "The most filthy, insidious and covertly written piece of propaganda ever published in behalf of lewdness, promiscuity, adultery and unrestrained sexual gratification." That, too, in the long view of brotherly love and tolerance, might be called ill-considered.

The sooner forgotten the better. The human vessel is, at best, a weak one and there is no wisdom in holding it up to ridicule when it cracks.

What Others Say

WRANGLING OVER

CONGRESSIONAL APPOINTMENT. Congressmen from certain southern and western states that will lose seats by the reapportionment of the house of representatives under existing legislation have lost no time in starting an agitation for the enactment of this session of a new basis for apportionment. The law enacted last session was not, in fact, an apportionment act in the common sense of the term. What it did was to provide that, in the event of congress failing to redistribute the seats in the house at its first session after the census, worked out by the executive branch on the basis of the census showing, should automatically take effect. The size of the house was left by this law at 435 members.

Congress is still free to enact any other apportionment legislation before March 4, which can command the necessary number of votes to become law. There is little likelihood of its doing anything of the kind. The grounds upon which it is being demanded by different parties are too weak to commend themselves to the country generally.

One of the grounds is that alien residents should not be included in the numerical basis of representation, although the constitution specifically says they shall be. The Atlanta Constitution, whose state stands to lose two seats on the present basis of apportionment, admits frankly that "aliens are parts of such numbers and can not be excluded from the state quotas without a specific constitutional amendment creating such exclusions." Congress can not enact that amendment.

The other ground is that no state should be forced to suffer a diminution of the number of its seats in the house. There are plenty of precedents for reducing the number of seats a state has, when the interests of the country demand it. The state of New York, for example, attained to forty seats in 1830 and then dropped steadily through the next three censuses to thirty-one seats in 1860; and it was not until 1910 that it regained forty seats. Virginia lost two seats in 1870. The three northern New England states each lost a seat in 1880. The effect of reapportioning the house now, without reducing the representation of any state, would be to increase the size of the house by an additional 105 seats. The house is too large as it is. States that saved seats by making the house thus unwieldy would not gain any proportionate voting strength. All that would be gained would be just so many more jobs for "deserving" politicians. Congress contains enough of them now. The house should not be enlarged; and the states which have not grown fast enough to retain the seats given them in 1910 ought to take the consequences as gracefully as a few of them have.—Detroit Free Press.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

"PARROT DISEASE"
I was amused the other day by a mother who scolded her daughter for buying a parrot. The good woman was quite upset by the purchase of this new pet and was positive no good would come of it. It was with much surprise and perhaps with considerable skepticism that she listened to my story, expressing doubt that danger might come from possession of the bird.

Undoubtedly much unnecessary alarm has been raised in the minds of most of us in reference to parrots. This is because of the epidemic of so-called parrot disease recently observed in this country. Several cases of "Psittacosis" or "parrot disease," were discovered in Baltimore and Annapolis last winter. The outbreak was traced to birds supplied by a wholesale dealer in New York city. Shortly after the facts were discovered the diseased birds were placed under the supervision of the health officials and no more cases were reported.

An Old Disease
It is interesting to note that this disease has been known for over 50 years. Research has shown that it is caused by the "bacillus psittacosis." This germ is carried by the diseased birds and transmitted to man.

In human beings the course of the disease is similar to that of a mild attack of typhoid fever. Headache, and a rise of fever to 102 and sometimes as high as 104, are common symptoms. The tongue appears dry and coated, and the patient complains of feeling very uncomfortable. Either diarrhea or constipation may be present. Rose-colored spots appear on the skin, and sometimes a marked cough may be present. If no complications take place the patient recovers within 15 or 20 days.

The disease is much more serious, fatal indeed, among birds than in man. In 1892, 500 parrots were shipped from South America to Paris. On the journey 300 of the birds died from this disease. Due to negligence, the remainder of the shipment was sold to various people. Shortly thereafter an epidemic of psittacosis broke out in Paris.

Caution Is Wise
There have been other similar epidemics, but really never very serious. The quarantine officials of the United States as well as of other countries have now provided such methods of inspection for the discovery of this disease that undoubtedly we will rarely or never hear of it again.

Parrots which have been in this country for years are not carriers of this disease, so there is no occasion to get rid of your old pet. The problem of control relates only to recently imported animals. I am sure we have heard the last of parrot disease. Yet an ounce of prevention is always worth a pound of cure. If you have a parrot and anyone in your home has been, ailing with fever and gripe-like complaints talk with your doctor. This should be the rule if the parrot appears sick or below par.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, December 10

A day of much progress and prosperity is fostered by the most auspicious rule of important stars. There is sign of much constructive effort, both in the employment of others and in lines of original genius and skill, leading to important change and possibly public recognition or popular acclaim. It is a time for forging ahead with much initiative and courage, although it would be well to sign all writings with precaution and sagacity. Also be discreet in the personal relations and activities.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of adventure and enterprise, with the prospect of change of environment and business connections, but with the assurance of successful launching of new projects or inventions, either for employers or independently. Promotion and honors are in store, but sign all writings cautiously and be circumspect in personal associations. A child born on this day should be clever, original, inventive and adventurous, and should attain established place either in an employment, with the public or on its own account.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—That sweep of Central Park West from 92d street to Columbus Circle has suddenly acquired a striking new architectural opulence. It bristles with dizzy towers—a street that came back. Always geographically superb, it for a time somehow became shabby.

Fine old apartment houses with genuine aristocratic pretensions went to seed and became the sort featuring these alien West Indian halfbreeds and larger ladies whose companionship consisted solely of chews, colored maids and gentlemen who carried their own keys.

Overlooking the park, the thoroughfare was rightfully, next to Riverside Drive, one of the most fashionable on the West Side. But New York streets unless watched go into devastating decay. Like a spotted apple in the barrel, one shady apartment house will spoil an entire street.

Central Park West began to take on a patina of pomp 20 years ago when the millionaire backers of the ill-fated New—later the Century and now being razed—theatre chose the street for its site. This was followed by other outbursts of building splendor.

The Ethical Culture school lodged there. As did the First and Second churches of Christ Science and private schools. Real Estate boomed and the street there was a pronounced sag. Central Park West seemed on the skids.

Utter stagnation seized it for seven years. About a year ago it began to revive. Magnificent apartments topped by pent houses shot up magically. The character of the residents completely changed. People of importance moved in and the street is swanky again.

Tow of the finest residential apartments in town have recently been finished in the area of the 90's. The Dakota, considered by many the best built apartment house in the metropolis, still stands at a West 72d street corner—about the last of the old guard.

Overheard: "She has gone to Hollywood to play a character part in a movie—a virgin."

And on Park avenue this morning a platinum blonde bundled up in a chinchilla stepped from a black long limousine, tilted her face before a vanity mirror, lit a cigarette and waited. Presently a messenger came up and handed her a note which she tore up and threw away before reading. I'm still a twit.

They had run out of every dish. Bide Dudley ordered so he ate what they brought him. But at the cashier's desk he exclaimed: "It's funny but I've run out of money."

In a second hand book-shop the other day I came upon a yellowing copy of the Family Fireside, that weekly literary wallow of the Gay Nineties. Its fiction dealt almost solely with dukes, Lady de Veres and curse-you villains with insinuating sneers. The ads, too, provided a sensation in hum-drum lives, especially that one headed: "Be Important—Get Big Mail." The drawing accompanying it showed a postman, bowed double with the weight of a ponderous sack, ringing the door bell.

I have never quite forgiven the perpetrators of that film-flam captioned: "Learn Ventriloquism at Home and Pool Your Friends." (Look Box 86, Dept. J, Altoona, Pa.) I sent off 50 cents in stamps for the entire course. For five days after it came I went about uttering queer tight lipped noises, trying to make a voice in a cleft say: "Let me cut!" As an atrocious climax I was taken to the family doctor for a tonsil yanking. But I kept my secret.

The Family Fireside, too, recalls the home talent play it printed for free use of subscribers. It was called "Reynolds" and we presented it in the Gallia Academy hall. The performance was interrupted at intervals by what seemed to be volleys of sudden hisses. Later we learned the hissing was merely members of the audience spitting against the red hot cannon ball stove in the middle of the room.

FRUIT GROWERS OF TWO COUNTIES TO MEET FEB. 11

Mahoning Agriculturists Will Attend Columbiana Session

LISBON, Dec. 9.—Vegetable and fruit growers of Columbiana county will gather in a joint meeting with Mahoning county growers at Columbiana on February 11. County Extension Agent Floyd Lower announced here today.

A. W. Marion and A. L. Pierstorff of Columbiana will be speakers at the meeting which will be held in the auditorium of the Columbiana High School.

Poultry Plan Meet

Poultrymen of the county will meet March 9. The site for the meeting has not been selected.

Lower declared today there has been a decided change in the type of farming in Columbiana county during the last few years. There has been a decided tendency to specialize.

Declines In Some Branches

A decline in sheep growing, beef cattle and wheat is also apparent. Those who formerly specialized in beef cattle now have dairy herds, with others specializing in small fruits, vegetables and poultry.

The county is now considered one of the most active in the state in poultry culture and dairy herds, all of which are tubercular tested, are the two most active dairy herd townships in the county.

Vegetable and small fruit growing is advancing rapidly, more acreage being used for this purpose during the last year than ever before.

ROCHEFORT, FRANCE.—French naval officials recently disputed the statement of the British Admiralty that the oldest ship afloat is an English vessel, the Implacable which now serves as a pontoon in the port of Falmouth, having been built in 1789.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—An injury received to his left arm while participating in gymnastics developed into a rare form of paralysis termed "post-operative tetany" and caused the death of 13-year-old Michael Bonano.

District Coaches, Writers Honor Four Salem High Gridders

THE DAY In Sports

SALEM GRIDDERS HONORED
LAST OF SELECTIONS

Increased interest in activities of the Northeastern Ohio Big Ten Athletic league was evidenced at the monthly meeting of the organization held at Massillon last night. Much concern was displayed over the selection of two mythical all-star eleven and coaches and other school officials were involved in more than a two-hour discussion of the league for the coming season, the 1931 football campaign, and the investigation of a protest lodged by Warren High against a 27-0 defeat sustained at Massillon. This latter protest was not allowed after considerable argumentation and Massillon is officially declared 1930 league champion and then other matters were discussed.

Principal among matters of interest to Salem fans is the fact that it is probable, and almost certain, that Niles will appear on the Red and Black 1931 grid schedule and there is a possibility that Massillon may also be added. Efforts are being made to place East Liverpool on the schedule. Faculty Manager having offered the Pottery two dates without a reply at present, and games with Warren, Alliance, South of Youngstown, and other annual opponents are already practically assured.

Then too, the fact that four Salem players were selected out of a list of more than 100 for award of positions on the league all-star teams is a matter of great interest here. This city's team failed to cop honors again but it certainly produced some individual stars in Beck, A. Corso, Bill Smith, Paul Sartick and due credit was awarded them.

Wilbur Johnson Springer, principal and athletic director, and Harold Williams, faculty manager, represented Salem High at the gathering.

With the all-star district teams it is hoped that the grid game will be placed in mothballs until the 1931 season. Post mortems are almost over and it is assured that not many more all-America, all-county or all-district teams will be forced onto the consideration of patient readers. Grantland Rice's all-America team is the last to be heard from in nation-wide collegiate selections and as soon as that is read, cussed and disagreed with, we'll be ready to give all attention to basketball.

Salem High gridders will be guests at the third banquet given in their honor this year Friday night. This will be the occasion of a fete to be given by fans of the city, Russell "Busty" Ashbaugh, Youngstown South High coach, being scheduled as speaker.

Coaches Floyd Stone and Frank Lewis, intent on developing a strong cage squad by the time Canton McKinley is met in the 1930-31 opener ten days hence, even refuse to take a single evening off from regular workouts. Instead of attending the monthly Big Ten meeting last night, they stuck to their work with the cagers and put out two hard hours trying to weed out some prospects for the coming campaign.

Springer and Williams took the big silver trophy, emblematic of the league football championship, to Massillon where it was awarded to MacGrew, Massillon High coach for one year's possession. Massillon won the 1931 grid title.

Three Red and Black Stars Selected For First All-League Team

Ed Beck Named Outstanding Halfback In League By Unanimous Vote; A. Corso, Sartick Placed On Eleven; Smith Second Team Captain

Salem High school, runner-up with Alliance High for Northeastern Ohio Big Ten interscholastic association championship honors in the 1930 football campaign, was awarded distinctive honors for individual performance of four of its gridders in the selection of the first annual mythical league all-star teams at a meeting of coaches, school officials and sports writers at the Massillon Y. M. C. A. Monday night.

Three Salem High players were placed on the first all-league team with second team honors being awarded to a fourth. Ed Beck, half, August Corso, tackle, and Paul Sartick, center, were awarded first team honors. William "Bill" Smith, quarterback and all-around backfield star, being selected halfback and captain of the second team.

Salem Stars Top List

Seven of the league's ten schools were represented in the all-star selection completed at the meeting. Salem, with three men on the first squad, claimed the lion's share of honors, while Alliance and Massillon, the latter the 1930 champion, each placing two players on the honored eleven. Barberton, New Philadelphia, Dover and Wooster were given one place each. Warren, Niles and Ravenna each failing to place a player.

Tribute was paid to outstanding performance of two of the league's backfield stars, Ed Beck and Robert

"Bouncey" Taliaferro of Wooster. The latter, selected as quarterback and team captain, led the league in scoring, was his team's greatest star and was one of the contributing factors to whatever success Wooster gained in gridiron competition during the past season.

Beck, one of Ohio's topnotch backfield stars, tied for second place in scoring in league games but was far ahead of any other ball-carrier in points registered in all games during the season. He was the only triple-threat halfback nominated for first place laurels.

Beck Unanimous Choice

Selection of Beck, Taliaferro, Corso, Williams (Massillon), fullback and Robert Willison (Massillon), tackle, was made by unanimous vote. Williams, at fullback, and William Windland (Alliance), at halfback, rounded out the backfield quartet selected on the first team.

Paul Sartick (Salem) was placed at first team center after considerable debate centered over the comparison of his abilities with Melvin Carpenter (New Philadelphia), sophomore flash, and Trevor Reese (Dover). Sartick was selected because of his seniority and experience together with his uncanny ability to diagnose opposing teams' plays. Only one dissenting vote was cast in the selection of August Corso for the left tackle position, the Salem redhead being termed the outstanding tackle in the league. Bob Willison of Massillon was selected his teammate at right tackle.

As in majority of cases throughout the state, there was another predominating lack of outstanding end and guard material in the circuit. William Gainer (Alliance) and James Smith (Dover) were selected for the first team and Hixson (New Philly) and James Getz (Massillon) on the second squad for wing posts. Lynn Chandler (Barberton) and Earl Mathias (New Philly) earned first-team guard ratings with second team positions going to Robert Peters (Alliance) and Red Drabentstett (Wooster).

Smith Heads Second Team

Windland was selected at fullback over Bill Smith of Salem only after considerable discussion over relative value of both players to a team. Smith was declared the better defensive player and blocker while Windland's consistency totting the oval earned him a high rating. The Alliance griddier was selected by a one-vote margin.

Taliaferro was named captain of the first-stringers and Smith head of the second team. Alliance rated three players on the second team, Warren two, and Salem, New Philly, Massillon, Dover, Wooster and Niles one each. Ravenna did not place a player on either first or second team. Five Salem stars—Jack Carpenter, halfback, John French, fullback, Michael Corso, tackle, Purn Siding and Gordon Keyes, were given honorable mention.

Reese (Dover) is second team center with McKinney, Warren captain, and Headley (Alliance) at the tackles. Rogers (Warren), DeGarmo (Niles), and Kester (Massillon) were backfield running-mates with Salem's Smith.

NATIONAL CAGE EVENT DROPPED

Plan Abandoned For High School Tournament In Chicago In Future

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. — The "big trip" to Chicago to vie for the national interscholastic basketball title has been made by high school teams for the last time.

Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg last night announced that the University of Chicago had decided to discontinue the tournament which has been the blue ribbon event of high school basketball since 1917.

From every part of the country the prep stars made a colorful drive on Chicago for a week each March. Boys who had to walk miles to the railroad and teams which played and practiced outdoors came to the tournament, the last two renewals of which were won by the Athens, Texas, Hornets.

The National Federation of High School Athletic associations and the North Central Conference of Colleges and Secondary schools, in the past few years have disapproved of national athletic events. The high school organization last winter voted to suspend any member institution attending such tournaments.

A committee appointed by the University of Chicago to learn the sentiment of high school principals sent out a questionnaire. Eighty-nine voted for discontinuance, 30 wished to have the tournament continued and 16 were undecided.

Rosies Withdraw From Pro League

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—The American Professional Basketball league will remain in the field minus the former hub of the circuit, the Cleveland Rosenblums.

Max Rosenblum announced the withdrawal of his club, three times world's champions in the five years the league has been in existence, after a conference here late yesterday. Decreased attendance was given as the reason.

President John J. O'Brien of New York announced that Chicago, Paterson, N. J., Toledo, Rochester, Syracuse and Port Wayne, Ind., would continue to play.

Cleveland's withdrawal is effective immediately and all the Rosenblums are free agents.

Northwestern Wins Opening Cage Tilt

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Northwestern, Illinois and Notre Dame today had victories marked up for their initial basketball competition, with Iowa the only major team to get off to a losing start.

Northwestern last night overwhelmed Bradley college 36 to 23, and Illinois, after a feeble start defeated De Pauw 27 to 15.

Notre Dame had little trouble downing Kalamazoo (Mich.), college 26 to 15, but Iowa's green aggression was unable to cope with a whirlwind last half attack by St. Louis university and lost 26 to 14.

TICKET SALES FOR BIG GAMES TOTAL $600,000

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Ticket sales for the benefit football game between the Army and Navy at the Yankee Stadium Saturday had passed the $600,000 mark today and it still was hoped the receipts would reach or exceed $1,000,000.

Grover Whalen, chairman of the committee sponsoring the contest to aid the unemployed, announced that 17,000 of the 20,000 tickets still remained to be sold. He expressed confidence that they would be disposed of within the next two days.

Stimulating the sale more than any other one factor was Navy's spectacular triumph over Pennsylvania at Philadelphia last Saturday. The Midshipmen revealed unsuspected power on the attack in that game and all predictions of an easy Army victory have been tossed overboard. Prospects now are for a closely contested game that may be decided by one break.

Army has the better record, losing only to Notre Dame by a one point margin and getting no better than a tie with Yale. Navy, on the other hand, was trounced by Notre Dame 26-2, and lost to Duke, Ohio State and Southern Methodist as well.

"GOOD NEWS"

At the Grand
University of Southern California football stars appear in action in "Good News," playing at the Grand theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering. The gridiron stars play in the football scenes, divided into two rival teams.

The cast—including a number of principals of the stage show—is headed by Bessie Love, who, teamed with Gus Shy, romps away hilariously with comedy honors. Bessie is great in her mirthful moments, and Shy, a newcomer to the screen, threatens to be a cinematic riot. The romance is charmingly carried by Stanley Smith and Mary Lawlor, with Lola Lane providing plot motivation. Others featured in the large cast are Cliff (Ukulele Ike) Edwards, who insists he "feels pessimistic," Delmar Daves, Dorothy McNulty and Billy Taft of "Varsity Drag" fame. Tom Jackson, Frank McGlynn and Vera Marsh.

While the thrilling football scenes provide a climax to the plot, the gorgeous wedding finale scene, screened in natural colors, is by far the most breath-taking of all glimpses into this truly beautiful film.

"LOVE AMONG THE MILLIONAIRES"

At the State
"Love Among the Millionaires," the musical romance of a waitress, whose love affair with a scion of wealth throws her into high society, is Clara Bow's new starring picture, now showing at the State theatre.

Amid the clatter of dishes and the blatant tones of a nickel-in-the-slot piano, "Love Among the Millionaires" gets underway. Clara sings a song, "Believe It or Not, I've Found My Man." That's where Stanley Smith comes in and transports the Redhead to a fairy paradise of the wealthy at Palm Beach. But, even then, everything refuses to run smoothly.

Stanley has a father, Claude King, who thinks a son of the rich shouldn't marry a girl of the poor, and, likewise, Clara has a father, Charles Sellen, who declares no daughter of his will marry a wealthy man. While the old chaps get together, Clara and Stanley have a misunderstanding which almost breaks up the romance.

"Love among the Millionaires" is one of the most enjoyable pictures Clara Bow has made, and Clara really gets a chance to sing. Little Mitzi Green is fine as Clara's small sister.

Wife Gets Divorce, Custody Of Child

LISBON, Dec. 9.—On the ground of gross neglect of duty, a divorce decree has been obtained by Isabelle Sprawl from her husband, Richard Sprawl, and upon the payment of the costs. The custody of a minor child has been awarded by Judge W. F. Lones to the plaintiff, but Sprawl has been given the right to visit the minor. Sprawl has also been ordered to pay his former wife $5 weekly for the support of the child.

Following a hearing on a motion for temporary alimony in the suit filed by Jeanne M. Koerber against her husband, Sherry Koerber, the defendant has been ordered to pay the plaintiff $4 weekly as alimony until further order. The right to visit the child has been granted Koerber by the court.

PAPILLION, Neb.—George Sieh's in the big money now. George resigned recently as city clerk, register of deeds, road supervisor and overseer of the poor here to accept a position as janitor of the consolidated school.
